HAS CONGRESS NO ORATORS?

Hon. Champ Clark Points Out
Changes in the National Legislature.

If not wholly lost, the art of oratory is rapidly falling into disuse, particularly in Congress, writes Champ Clark in the December Century.

William Bourke Cockran, of New York, was the last great orator to grace the House of Representatives. Cockran is the highest type of Irishman, and was educated thoroughly in France. He is a profound student, a man of large erudition, with an emotional temperament and a thorough mastery not only of English, but of French, Latin and Greek. He has a superb voice, a vivid imagination and a commanding presence. His sentences are polished as thoroughly as those of Edward Everett or John James Ingalls. The greatest achievement of an orator is to force applause from a hostile audience. Time and time again I have seen men who dissented toto caelo from what he was saying applaud Cockran until their hands were blistered. He won them, temporarily at least, by his magnificent oratory, his wonderful magnetism. Men listened to him with delicious delight. The day he left the House he was more popular there than he had ever been, and men of all shades of political opinion sincerely regretted his departure.

I do not mean that there are not still great speakers and great debaters in both Houses of Congress, for there are plenty of them. But there is a vast difference between an orator and a debater. A man may be both, but he is lucky if he is either. There are few orators left in the country outside of Congress. Undoubtedly the greatest of these—one of the greatest that ever lived—is William Jennings Bryan. Other men have made speeches as great as his, but the oratorical power of no other has been put to so severe a test. Since the fourth of March, 1895, when he left Congress, excepting his six months of army service, he has spoken constantly and in every quarter of the globe. Every important speech has been sent broadcast by the news associations, and one might naturally conclude that he would have worn out his welcome as a public speaker long ago. Not so, however, for today he can draw a bigger audience than any other man in America except President Taft, who draws by reason of his position, and Col. Roosevelt, who draws by his wonderful and unique personality.

There are plenty of men in the United States who could deliver old-time orations, but they have concluded that in this age of highest intelligence that the plainer style of speaking is the better. The principal causes of the decadence of oratory are the telegraph, the printing press, the telephone, the steam engine and the electric car.

CHOLERA KILLS

Don't let this most destructive of all infectious diseases get a "grip" on your flock. A few drops of in the drinking water cures and prevents Cholera, Limberneck, Roup and other existing forms of poultry diseases, and puts fowls in prime condition for egg-laying. One 50c bottle makes 12 gallons of medicine. Every poultry raiser should keep a bottle of this medicine on hand.

Extra Berth Reserved on Sleeper For Biggest Hat Ever Seen in Lexington.

Three berths reserved for two people on a sleeper that came into Lexington on one of the railroads one day last week was the unique condition found to exist by an investigation which revealed the fact that when a couple left the East for Kentucky, the woman reserved the extra space for a hat. The names are withheld by request of the couple.

"Four feet and seven inches across, just exactly, announced the humorous porter in a stage whisper when he saw several other passengers eyeing the expansive "lid" in not over-polite surprise and curiosity. The porter, however, probably exaggerated some,

maybe half or three-quarters of an inch, but the hat is certainly "a dre-e-um," as it would far eclipse, outrank, out-class anything ever seen in this section.

An a feature of the joke was that the woman to whom the hat belonged was a dainty, slender, little woman far below the average size and so slender that she looked almost fragile. But she didn't seem to object to the sensation she was creating the least bit; in fact she appeared rather to enjoy it.

The reservation of extra berths for hat shelves may open a new source of revenue for the Pullman Company, but it is hoped by the fellows that pay the bills that the Federal government will prevent a merger of the millinery trust and the Pullman people by which all the hats would be made big enough so that an extra berth would have to be reserved.—Lexington Leader.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Executions Nos. 46, 47, 48, 49 and 50, directed to me, which, issued from the Clerk's office of the Montgomery Circuit Court, in favor of John E. Bean, A. H. Judy, surviving partner, etc., S. D. Everett, Sr., S. W. Gaitskill and A. Broh, respectively, against S. D. Everett, I, or one of my deputies, will, on Monday, December 19th, 1910 between the hours of 1 o'clock, p. m. and 2 o'clock, p. m., at the Court House door, in Mt. Sterling, Montgomery county, Kentucky, expose to Public Sale, to the highest bidder, the interest of S. D. Everett in the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy Plaintiffs' debts, interest and costs, and which interest is a one-fourteenth undivided interest therein, subject to the life estate of Mrs. Anna Burchett and said interest is acquired under the will of Wm. Ragan, deceased, and which will is recorded in Will Book G, page 55, Montgomery County Clerk's office.

Said real estate is divided in two tracts and is described as follows:

FIRST TRACT.—A certain tract or parcel of land situated in Montgomery county, Ky., on the Mt. Sterling and North Middletown pike near Somerset Creek and being lot 2 as shown on the plat of division of the lands of Wm. Ragan and bounded as follows: Beginning at a stone on the south edge of Mt. Sterling and North Middletown turnpike road at letter V on said plat and corner with lot No. 1; thence with the center of said road N. 81 1/4 E. 4 1/2 poles to figure 2; thence S. 52 1/4 E. 2 1/2 poles to 12; thence S. 49 1/4 E. 2 1/2 poles to 3; thence S. 83 1/4 E. 18 poles to a stone at 4 corner with T. A Good Start Toward Good Roads

The committee, appointed by the Good Roads Association at its annual meeting on September 15 to draw up a good roads bill to serve as a starting point for the Good Roads Congress to be held in Louisville December 28 and 29, has completed its work and copies of the measure have been mailed to every County Judge in the State. Under the resolution offered by Harry A. Sommers at the convention of the Good Roads Association, the Good Roads Congress is to be composed of a delegation of five members from each county with the county Judge as ex-officio chairman. This congress is to be held jointly with the annual midwinter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association for the purpose of drafting a bill that will go before the next General Assembly as an expression of the will of the good roads advocates and the press of the State.

The measure drawn by the committee is tentative in form, the congress having full power to amend, adopt or reject it. Its chief value, however, lies in the fact that it offers for the first time a common basis on which the press and the advocates of good roads can begin their work. The congress to which it will be submitted will be in every respect a representative and democratic body, and its final action will deserve from the next General Assembly a full and favorable hearing.
